

Examples of exercises for the stimulation of visual attention – CHILDREN

EXERCISE 1: I AM A DICTIONARY

Aim: Stimulation of visual attention in the field of reading

Task: Get a piece of paper and a pen. Write down as many words which are described by the given words.

VERY HOT:

UNNECESSARY:

THE BEST:

EXCITING

COLOURFUL:

BORING:

EXERCISE 2: MARCHING

Aim: Stimulation of visual attention in the field of reading

Task: Read the written text and at the same time take one step to the left and two steps to the right.

Peter lives in Koper and his best friend Mark comes from Rogla. They have known each other for nine years. Every year they spend at least two days of their vacations together. In the summer Mark goes and visits him at the seaside, and in the winter Peter goes to Rogla to ski. Their parents are good friends too. Both mothers are teachers, Peter's dad is a mechanic and Mark's dad works in his company. They get together for all holidays. They last celebrated Mark's birthday together. They went to the zoo where they fed a giraffe and watched the playful monkeys. They also treated themselves to a delicious birthday cake.

EXERCISE 3: PICTURE READING

Aim: Stimulation of visual attention in the field of motoric functions

Task: Get a chair. The pictures below show your movements. The line represents the chair and the ball represents you. Do what is drawn and repeat it for several times in a row.

